Age: 1 year 10 months

Date of Visit: 03 December 2009

It was hard work to open your PAUA Christmas present Mollie – there was lots of tape stuck really well! You were excited to open it up and see what is was. Rip and pull – you got it open and..... what was it Mollie?

A skipping rope with lady bird handles!

You were excited and eager to give the skipping rope a go and we can tell by the action shot that you were jumping! PUAU also gave you a special Christmas story book which we had a look at together and then you read it by yourself. It was a lovely story and you liked the animal illustrations.

While Christmas bells are chiming, may there come to you
A dear little fairy, who's always good and true;
The little happy fairy, who drives away dull care,
And makes all things upon the earth seem ever bright and fair.

I hope you and your whanau have a brilliant Christmas and I send you my best wishes for the season. I will come and see you again soon Mollie, until then ma te wa!
